All of these extreme cars are all controlled with the steering wheel; Q: Stacked bar plot in R
I am working with a stacked bar plot (example data is at the end of the post). I have three categories of data "Raw data", "Reduced data", "Zero data". For each category I have, say, 3000 pieces of data. I can make a bar plot, but have not been able to find a way to make the data appear stacked. Each category will have different color and the zero category should have 0; instead of having 0 as a separate color, I'd like to make it the black. Somehow, I managed to make the bars appear stacked as a bar plot, but they are always on top of each other. Any help? I'm quite new to R so please go easy on me! Here is my code: a
