presents significant improvements over earlier versions. These are Windows 7, Windows 8, Windows Server 2012, Windows 10. It was released in April 2012 as a two-disc version. This version adds the following features: Removed file integrity and accessibility checks, Microsoft Office 2010. Added the ability to restore the system. Critical security, which allows you to see all files to make sure they are safe. Improved many system utilities. Other changes include the removal of all Windows Servers services that are not currently in use. Microsoft released a new version of Microsoft Backup Exec 2009 R2 on Wednesday, March 15, 2012. This version fixes several bugs that were found in the previous version, offering much more control and performance improvements than its predecessor. The update is available to all users of Windows 7 and Windows Registry Service, as well as Windows Serial Restore, Windows 7 Pro, Windows Vista, Windows XP SP3, Windows 2000, Windows 98, and Windows NT. It helps you back up all your important files. All backup processes that you have implemented on your desktop system; Windows Server Service Manager, Windows SYSTEMCMD, Windows PowerShell and Microsoft Publisher Services. This is not a complete list, but these are possible exceptions to them. The major update BackupExec.5.1.249953 has several new features and vulnerability fixes: Fixed issues with the inability to work with multiple partitions. Fully fixed restoring from backups under certain conditions when performing a system reboot. This allows you to restore from a previously saved copy. Fixed restoration of system files in maximum performance mode. A patch tag feature that will allow you to install a patch on your computer that will fix the vulnerability. The test results are mostly in line with the state of the previous version of BackupEXEC.5 and earlier. This is a test for Microsoft Windows Server 2012 and 2013.
