For over a decade, iBEYOND has been the only company to develop highly engineered products that meet the stringent demands of the most demanding customers in the industry. Their handbuilt products are the best, but we also believe our most important asset is our client base. We want to ensure that the services and solutions we offer to each of our clients are tailored to their specific needs, rather than viewing them as a commodity. The same vision drives the partnership with iBEYOND. We are pleased to be working with them and demonstrate how innovative, well-designed products are always accompanied by superior customer service. Sara, Attached is a brief memo outlining our thoughts on the supply issue that we would like your thoughts on for both the in and out/back to back. We would like to begin as early as possible so if you would like to send this back to me as soon as possible, that would be fine. We are fairly flexible as to when the supply gets back to us. Please let me know. Thank you, Eric GaddIncreased levels of circulating P-selectin and E-selectin predict stable coronary atherosclerosis in CAD patients. The elevation of circulating soluble endothelial factors may play a role in the process of atherosclerosis. However, it remains to be determined whether the levels of circulating adhesion molecules are associated with coronary atherosclerosis. This study investigates the relationship between soluble adhesion molecule levels and the extent of coronary atherosclerosis. Levels of soluble adhesion molecules were measured in 186 consecutive patients with coronary artery disease and in 35 healthy controls. The extent of coronary atherosclerosis was assessed by coronary artery calcium score (CACS) and coronary artery disease (CAD) extent and severity score.
