The official press release from the Toronto Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals says, "the name and profile of the organization have changed to The Toronto Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals." For that reason, the announcement also says that "[t]he service to the public will continue in a manner that is consistent with the commitment and track record of the Toronto Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals." A spokesperson said the TSPCA's name is undergoing an official name change to reflect the organization's current and future direction. "After a careful review, the board determined that the name and profile of the organization have changed to The Toronto Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," the spokesperson said. "The name

What's New in the AutoCAD?

Explore the new Drafting and Project Center features on your drawing. AutoCAD 2023 adds the Drafting Center to the Windows menu, offering many new features for working with complex diagrams. As a new feature for AutoCAD users, the Project Center is a feature that allows you to set up a project folder to store all of your drawing files and store them into a project folder. Another new feature allows you to upload one or more files at once and export to many output formats at once. AutoCAD 2023 provides a new feature for AutoCAD users: you can now utilize GIS data from the web on your drawings. In this drawing, feature lines, labels and other data are added to a new geospatial data server, ArcGIS Online. AutoCAD projects are much easier to manage with a new project manager feature. The ability to send e-mail to the drawing has been removed, as it was discontinued as a separate feature. Instead, the new Message Manager lets you send e-mail from any application, without needing to edit a drawing. (video: 4:15 min.) Importing raster images to AutoCAD: You can now more easily import raster images to your drawing without having to do any additional steps. To import a raster image to your drawing, select the option from the Import/Link menu, then select the raster image to import. (video: 1:15 min.) There is now a new feature to detect linetype in the drawing. The linetype detection works in many different ways, including detecting materials, text and shape linetypes. You can select the linetype, material and typeface. (video: 1:15 min.) Creating EPS-based maps from AutoCAD drawing: You can now create EPS-based maps from AutoCAD drawing. To create an EPS file, select the option from the File menu, then select Export as EPS file. You can also import a pre-existing EPS file to add it to the drawing. (video: 1:15 min.) You can now go back to earlier dates when modifying the viewport. If you navigate to a date before the current one, the viewport is set to the viewport date that is stored on your drawing. This means that you can more easily go back to older drawings.
