Collage software Software for collage has become a major focus of desktop publishing due to the prevalence of photography and art in people's personal and professional lives. Many options are available, and many can be used alone or in conjunction with Photoshop or other image-editing programs. The following software is more-or-less aimed at providing a solution for people who want to create a collage out of a collection of images and text. _PaintShop Pro 12_ is a part of the popular Adobe Creative Suite family of software. It has a standard pixel-based user interface that is a little different in some respects than the Photoshop user interface. And though it's suited for producing digital prints, it's also an excellent tool for collage. _PaintShop Pro 12_ is used most commonly in conjunction with digital cameras to quickly load images and assemble a collage of images with text overlays and effects.

Gay, lesbian and bisexual youth have an increasing number of health concerns requiring clinical intervention, with HIV and sexually transmitted disease (STD) infection the most common problem. In the past decade, a growing number of national organizations and individual states have undertaken interventions designed to reduce the negative effects of and prevent risks associated with HIV and STD infection. This conference on "Improving the Quality of Health Care for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Youth" will focus on current, empirically-based strategies to educate health care professionals on health issues pertinent to the lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGB) population. The conference will discuss issues such as: identifying and delivering care to this population, with a focus on the administration of HIV/STD tests; nutrition and physical activity, with a focus on tobacco and alcohol use, using a sex-role specific approach; and mood and mental health problems, with a focus on depression, suicide, substance abuse and the effects of discrimination. HIV and STD prevention, diagnosis and treatment will also be addressed. This conference is of major importance to HIV and STD prevention agencies which deliver services to LGB youth and to the health care professionals who work with these youth. We have been mapping out all of our plans for expanding the Star City Games network. We are pleased to announce the acquisition of the Colorado Game Room (CGR) in Denver, Colorado. CGR is a well-respected gaming store in Denver that has operated under two owners since being founded. CGR has served the Denver gaming community for 20 years as a long-standing local institution. We will be working with owner Nick Francis, along with the CGR staff and community, to grow the brand and further build out Star City Games' presence in the Denver and Colorado market. CGR will now be the home of our Colorado team, which will oversee the growth of the brand in Colorado. Come meet our dedicated crew at CGR soon! The team at CGR will continue to operate under the name of The Game Company, and the Denver location will remain open with Nick

Francis continuing as the general manager. All the staff will be relocated to Florida. This is an exciting moment for the Star City Games and The Game Company brands, and our best move forward as we continue to grow and continue to innovate the hobby. We deeply appreciate all of the hard work of Nick and the entire CGR staff in the years that we have been with them. As a result of this and other strategic moves, we are pleased to announce that Nick Francis will continue to be involved in Star City Games as part of our board of directors. Nick Francis is the founder and owner of CGR and he has been a huge part of the community for several years. During his time with CGR, Nick has had the opportunity to serve as a judge and mentor for all of the Denver and Colorado gaming events. He helped create the first gaming tournament at the Colorado Center, and hosted the inaugural Devils Ball event. “I am extremely excited to announce that I will continue to be involved in the Denver and Colorado gaming events,” said Nick Francis. “Star City Games already has a strong foothold in the Denver area, and the acquisition of CGR, combined with the upcoming changes to our management team, will ensure the continued growth of Star City Games in the region.” Nick is currently the co-host of the SGN podcast and host of the ROE Gaming Podcast. CGR will continue to operate under the name The Game Company and we will see all CGR staff and contractors remain with us
