Esthesione East: a redevelopment saga. Esthesione East is a unique site that is situated within the Olympic Park, about 1 km from Olympic Stadium, Olympic Park, and business hub. It is seen as the most important East-West axis of the Olympic Park. Esthesione East cannot compete with the high-class international resorts such as Whistler Blackcomb, Ski-Mama, and the Crystal (and Cúchulainn) Hotel. Despite this, it will be in the most highly sought after address in these areas, about 100 km from Sydney city. Esthesione East was a first attempt of Olympic Park Authority and the government of New South Wales to bring golf, casino, and spa experiences to their city. Esthesione East is a symbol of Sydney's ambitions to make its city more attractive to the world's tourist.

Baktan Lake Baktan Lake is a lake in Banff National Park, in Alberta, Canada. It was formed by glaciation and was enlarged by large mudflows, and is fed by smaller lakes. The two primary tributaries of the lake are the Lawn and Willow Creek. The lake is notable for being the site of a residential camp for elite Canadian track and field athletes in the early years of the 20th century. This lake is frequently used by anglers to catch northern pike. (Emphasis supplied.) The petitioner is not a "party" within the meaning of the statute. The Circuit Court of Appeals held, however, that the petitioner waived the defense of the statute of limitations by filing with the clerk of the district court a notice of removal to the circuit court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446. Section 1446 provides that "at any time before answer it may be removed," etc. *11 The circuit court may have been right in construing the words to mean that if the defendant in a case pending in the district court does not file a notice of removal he may not later remove the case and thus might be held in contempt for breach of the anti-removal statute of which he had been apprised by the filing of the petition. One might suppose, however, that if the defendant in an action pending in the district court files a notice of removal and the district court is then without jurisdiction to proceed further, this filing of a notice of removal would constitute a waiver of the statute of limitations defense, particularly when the petition and all papers filed in the case have been sent to the clerk of the circuit court and the clerk has delivered them to the judge for assignment to the circuit court. The words of the statute are broad enough to give a fair interpretation to the filing of a notice of removal, and to give effect to the salutary purpose of the statute. The filing of a notice of removal puts the case into the court in which the action was filed, and the plaintiff may proceed against the defendant from that point on. The filing of the petition was the beginning
