April 17, 2019 Mogwai Cymbals, Zippo Lighters, Gretsch Drums, and More Stuff. Earlier this year, we posted about a haunted house that put together objects from around the world to create a spine-tingling experience (Link). Since then, the creators of the haunted house have built a new haunted house at Disneyland, which incorporates new technology that uses sound to scare guests (Link). The new technology wasn't just a gimmick. They've made some custom cymbals specifically for their haunted house. Check them out. . The specially-made cymbals are designed to produce an eerie sound that are said to scare guests (Link). The cymbals are called McCyber
