Follow #1 and navigate to this file -> Program Files (x86) -> MicrosoftAccess -> Microsoft Access Database Engine ->. So navigate to that folder and you have the Access database file. Once you have the file that you want to work with open that file in any text editor. When Access opens it will likely have a.mdb extension on it which will be a Microsoft Access Database file. As you can see on the Ribbon / File menu (click here to see a larger image) there is a button to open your Access database. Click on that button and allow the application to open. A new window should pop up and you should see your database file. Click on the 2nd tab to see the SQL Editor window. This is the tool where you will be able to view your table(s) and make any changes you need to if needed. Continue to follow the first reply and you should be able to navigate to the appropriate location. DETA
