Günther Compans (; born 4 September 1944 in Berlin, Germany) is a German entrepreneur and politician of the Christian Democratic Union. He is the founder and chairman of the Günther Compans Foundation, a foundation for non-profit organisations.

Background Günther Compans was born as the son of a psychiatrist. His mother worked as a secretary. After his mandatory military service of three years, he studied physics and chemistry at the University of Freiburg. He graduated in 1969 and became a university lecturer in Chemical Engineering at the Ludwig Maximilians University of Munich. From 1978, he completed a doctorate at the same university. In 1972 he co-founded his own consultancy in the field of chemistry and chemical engineering, the Compans & Co, located in Munich. His aim was to offer advice and training to companies by conducting end-to-end processes, from product formulation to the factory floor. G c6a93da74d
