Cadbury has revived a family tie that dates back to 1885 by appointing an MP to its board of directors. Andrew Griffiths, a Liberal Democrat, becomes the first MP since 1970 to join the chocolate giant's board. Mr Griffiths is a former MP for Bristol South West who was elected as MP for Thornbury in 2017. His nomination was announced by Cadbury's chief executive, Dominic Kelly. "I've spent time at Cadbury for more than two decades and have always had a great relationship with the company and its teams," Mr Griffiths said. "I'm proud to be appointed to the Cadbury board and I'm looking forward to working with everyone to support the company as it creates a long-term sustainable future for the chocolate and confectionery industry." Abstract-Atmospheric aerosols provide a significant reflection of solar radiation to the earth's surface, and hence its surface energy balance. In the present work, the atmospheric radiation components at the Northern Hemisphere mid-latitudes and their radiative fluxes are analyzed under the influences of aerosols, comparing the results with the analysis without aerosols. A climate model is applied to simulate various radiative flux components of surface energy balance. The results show that the aerosol effects on surface energy balance could occur through three mechanisms: one related to the increase of the atmospheric column water vapor, the other to the increase of convective heat flux, and the third one related to the increase of radiation due to the interactions between aerosols and solar radiation.# Copyright 2014 MongoDB Inc. # # Licensed under the Apache License, Version 2.0 (the "License"); # you may not use this file except in compliance with the License. # You may obtain a copy of the License at # # # # Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, software # c6a93da74d
