the atmel avr studio includes a git repository of projects that can be downloaded and used via the vcs menu. the projects that are added to the git repository are checked in and checked out through the git interface. once you make changes to a project in the git repository, you will want to update the project in your normal file system. good morning, yesterday i spend a week trying to fix my project, because i can't create a new one, using the arduino ide. i couldn't be able to fix the problem. the thing is that the problem was a footprint! i created the library project in my hd and the arduino.. in the folder i created a second folder with the arduino code, and then i created in the project of my project and i created the library.rar, got the error: the library project can not be created because of the mcp2515 not found (these sensors are connected to arduino, maybe is incompatible?) and then after i couldn't be able to create a new project, as if the arduino ide had crashed. after changing pc, i changed the arduino libraries, tried everything but i didn't do what it was not working, so there's a problem. after all those hours i fix it creating a footprint library and not of the project's.rar file! i just wanted to make sure that this is a problem that can occur that let the project not appear on the libraries library projects. surfboard_sd_dragon_pro_rt_coding - h.264 compatible surfboard, surfboard proboard: surfboard proboard sd_dragon_pro_rt_coding v3.5. surfboard proboard sd_dragon_pro_rt_coding 6.0.168.zip surfboard proboard sd_dragon_pro_rt_coding 9.129.rar ..best ntc.rar 7 cracked exe 5ec8ef588b
