Rats were given with drinking water containing low lead (0.01 mg/100 ml) for about 14 months. Continuous ingestion of low dose of lead causes significant reduction of the body weight, bone and lead levels in the brain and liver of the rats. The contents of lead in the brain and liver were determined by atomic absorption spectrophotometry. The lead content in the brain was reduced by 50% and that in the liver, by 33%.Former Montreal Canadiens captain and hall-of-famer Maurice "The Rocket" Richard, was born on this day in 1938.
